

St. Joseph Health is Coming to Crescent City

St. Joseph Health, in collaboration with the Del Norte Healthcare District, is pleased to announce the opening of a new medical clinic in Crescent City.

Beginning July 18, 2017, Cardiologist Dr. Bryon Dorgan will see patients with cardiac and circulatory conditions, including high blood pressure and all conditions related to the heart. The St. Joseph Health Medical Group (formerly Humboldt Medical Specialists) satellite clinic will be held at Dr. Greg Duncan's office on 1200 Marshall St. (corner of Harding and Marshall Streets, one block west of Northcrest Blvd).

In addition to cardiology, St. Joseph Health Medical Group provides comprehensive primary and specialty care to patients in the north coast region. SJHMG is currently evaluating resource availability and looks forward to adding additional specialty services to its Crescent City satellite clinic later this year.

Cardiology appointments with Dr. Bryon Dorgan may be scheduled by calling (707) 442-1182.

We look forward to seeing you in Crescent City!

Sincerely,

John Aryanpur, M.D.
President, St. Joseph Health Medical Group
